The Buffalo Band will give a short program following which there will be the introduction of prominent officials who have made the Palo Duro State Park possible.

Mr. Baird was born in Randall county Sept. 15, 1890. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baird, pioneer settlers of this county. His father, now deceased, came to the T-Anchor Ranch in 1884.

Wheat Money Here By Christmas Plan

Farmers Will Finish Up Contracts Here Friday Afternoon

Wheat allotment money by Christmas!

While this is not assured to the farmers of Randall county, yet it is the earnest endeavor of the local allotment committee to make this possible.

Farmers of Randall county came to Canyon yesterday, today and will come again tomorrow from the various districts to sign the government contracts which have been prepared by the allotment committee composed of Roger B. Gist, J. P. Hix and L. T. Campbell. The contracts will be in Washington by the first of December, the final date set by the government for the signing.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch states that the contracts are in excellent shape, and as a whole the farmers will be paid off as quickly as the government is able to issue the checks. The checks will be returned to the local committee for distribution to the farmers.

No one except those who have looked in on the local committee will be able to appreciate the vast amount of work which has been connected with this business. The three members of the allotment committee have devoted all of their time the past six weeks to this job, and several additional workers have been necessary to keep up with the work.

The original allotment for Randall county was 192,000 acres, but this was increased to 220,000 after the farmers had shown the actual amount planted in the county. It was necessary to reduce the figures of the farmers in order to come within the allowable granted by the government. The total number of bushels allowed are 1,134,864, which will mean $316,761.92.

The approximate rental on land left out will be $9.00 per acre this year in cash. The local committee has held the expenses down to 1 cent per bushel, which is less than the cost of administration in most counties.

A list of the finally approved contracts will be published in The News in two weeks.

Chamber Commerce Will Close Year's Work With Banquet

The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce and election of officers for the coming year will be held next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the high school gymnasium.

Tickets are being sold at 50 cents, and those desiring to attend are urged to see members of the committee by Friday. Those in charge of the banquet are Fred E. Wortham, J. W. Kleinschmidt, Carl Laughery, J. Roy Moses and Dr. M. L. Saddoris.

Dr. Saddoris Talks on Medical Profession at Rotary Club

Dr. Marvin Saddoris gave a vocational talk on the medical profession at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. He termed the practice of medicine as the treatment of "dis-ease."

The educational requirements for the doctor have increased very rapidly in the past 20 years, until now it takes 8 or more years to complete the work required.

Practice consists of diagnosis, judgment and treatment.

Specializing in various lines has increased greatly in recent years. The dentist was the first specialized specialist. Practically every field of medicine has since become specialized.

About 10,000 young men are graduating annually from the medical colleges. It takes about half of these for replacement in the medical field. Mr. Saddoris believes that the small town offers the best opportunity for young doctors.

The speaker advised Rotarians to be fair with their doctor, to tell him the full history of his case of illness, and then give him an opportunity for treatment. Furthermore, it pays to visit your doctor twice annually just for a check up, like you visit your dentist twice annually. In China the doctor is on the family payroll so long as all members are well.

Al Baggett announced the last football game for the Buffaloes on next Saturday. He urged that Rotarians and all business men attend the game Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

"The Service Clubber" was circulated. It was a mimeographed sheet prepared by Fred Wortham and Marvin Saddoris.

Bob Foster was introduced, returning as a member of the club. The resignation of T. C. Thompson was accepted with regrets.

Ben Anderson, Dr. B. M. Pucket, W. S. Norman and Guy Saunders of Amarillo, and Rev. Chas. L. Dickey of Canyon were guests of the club.

Mrs. Emma J. Hale Died Sunday With Funeral on Monday

400 AMARILLO MEN BROUGHT TO ROAD JOB

Local Men Fired Off Job By Orders From Austin

TANGLE CONTINUES

Meeting in Austin Attended by Local Men After Facts

Four hundred Amarillo men were moved to the road east of Canyon on Monday when orders were received from Austin prohibiting the use of unemployed men in Randall county who had been put to work Thursday. The excuse was given that this was not an approved project. About 60 Canyon men who have been on the relief rolls have been employed on the road this week, but those who were discharged Saturday have not been given employment on other projects.

Engineer E. H. Gohmert hopes that all Canyon men will be put back to work when W. J. Van London, district engineer, returns from Austin where he is trying to ascertain what is the matter with the highway program in the Panhandle.

Mr. Gohmert states that according to his information there will be available $28,000 for bridges and $100,000 for grading and caliche on this road. Mr. Gohmert stated that he could use more men than had been sent from Amarillo. He used a three way haul the first of the week, and yesterday started a fourth crew at the Marshall place in topping the east end of the road.

Judge S. B. Orton attended a meeting of county officials in Amarillo Thursday where protests were made against the policies adopted in Austin which have retarded highway construction. Judge Orton went to Austin Sunday upon invitation of Governor Ferguson to attend a meeting of county of-

Randall Leads In Grade A Dairies Says Inspector

Lewis Dodson, milk inspector, was here yesterday visiting the dairies which are providing Canyon's milk supply.

"Randall county has more Grade A dairies than any county on the Plains," stated Mr. Dodson. Excellent progress is being made in making effective the new milk ordinance in Canyon, stated Mr. Dodson. About eight of the dairies have made full compliance with the regulations.

The standard milk ordinance is usually opposed by those who do not understand its purpose, stated the inspector. The public profits by a better product, and should therefore be greatly interested in the enforcement of the ordinance. When the dairymen understand the ordinance, no force is necessary for its enforcement, states the inspector.

More information will be given by Mr. Dodson from time to time.

Red Cross Roll Call Brings In $174 Up to Date

Response to the annual Red Cross Roll Call has been gratifying stated W. A. Warren yesterday. $174 has been collected to date, and several committees have not yet reported upon their collections.

Mr. Warren states that great interest has been shown by the people of the county in the Roll Call, and many have regretted that conditions were such that they could not give more to this worthy cause.

Mr. Warren hopes that all who have not been seen by any of the committees will see him or a soliciter before Thanksgiving as it will be necessary to close the campaign at that time.

New Company Moves to Park December 1

Palo Duro Largest C. C. C. Unit in the United States

C. C. C. Company No. 1821 will move to the Palo Duro State Park next week, according to information received Tuesday. The company is now located at Sargon, Colo. Barracks for the new company are being rushed this week by a large force of carpenters under the direction of Supt. E. W. Cabe. The new company will find a complete camp unit ready for its reception upon arrival.

The new recreation hall will be completed by Friday, and will be formally opened Friday night with an inspirational program, states Chaplain Gus Ramage. The hall is the largest of its kind in the United States, built for the purpose of caring for four or more C. C. C. camps. Chaplain Ramage states that the Palo Duro camp is the largest in the United States, since not more than two companies are located together at any other point. Should additional companies be located here, as rumor now has it, the Palo Duro will be the largest of any outstanding project in C. C. C. history.

The tented city came down Friday. All of the men moved into the new barracks, and Major Jas. A. Watson ordered the tents shipped back to Fort Sill. Carpenters

College Attendance Is Increased by 76

Split Semester Opening Monday Brings An Increase

W. T. opened the second half of the first split semester Monday with 76 new students who came to take advantage of the new plan which was inaugurated this year. This boosts the teotal attendance for the year to 805 in the College. A number of new students enrolled in the training school, making the total in the institution for the present at 1064.

Enrollment will continue next Monday states Registrar D. A. Shirley.

The new plan for the split semester has met with great favor among the students as it means paying the fees of $16.50 for each part of the semester, rather than having to make one payment of $33.00.

W. T. is the only institution in the state which is trying the split semester plan. The innovation is being watched by other colleges and will probably be made effective in other institutions next year.

Dr. J. A. Hill returned Sunday from the Board of Regents meeting held at Nacogdoches. Report from the various teachers colleges indicates that W. T. has a better attendance this year than most of the colleges of the state. A decrease in attendance is shown in many of the colleges of the state.

PANHANDLE MEMBER 1933 PRESS ASSOCIATION

A wet ticket was recently proposed for the Texas primary in 1934, headed by young Joe Bailey as a candidate for the United States Senate in opposition to Tom Connally. Bailey announced his candidacy Sunday. The other wets on the proposed ticket are supposed to follow soon with their announcements. We are going to see just how wet Texas really is. There were only about 45% of the voters who took time to go to the polls this year and vote on the repeal and beer questions. Many of these were prohibitionists who believed that probably repeal of the 18th amendment and legal beer was the best thing. It now remains to be seen whether or not they shall be willing to ditch the entire prohibition cause and vote for dripping wets in every office in Texas. 1934 promises to be an interesting political year. The voter who is not armed with a poll tax receipt will be as well off politically as a Chinaman.

Randall county taxpayers contributed $193,059.55 for the support of the local and state governments last year, but there is a delinquency of $123,789.64 in taxes. While this is a better record than many counties of Texas has, it is nothing to brag about. There are $120,000,000 in delinquent taxes in Texas. If the major part of this was paid, the state would be on a cash basis, the relief bonds would not be issued, and the local governments—county, city and school—would be runnig smoothly. Paying taxes is a patriotic duty, but not taken seriously by many people since the legislature started to remitting costs and penalties. However, this 120 million will never be collected in full. In many instances the property is worthless, and could never be sold to the amount of the taxes. The government will have to revalue much of the property of the state before it can expect to collect much of the delinquent taxes.

There are many people in Randall county who have not visited the Palo Duro State Park since the camps were established in July. They will have a great surprise when they drive out there next Sunday for the formal opening of the road to the bottom of the canyon; first, the camps will be a revelation to those who have not kept up with developments; and secondly the road itself will prove a very great thrill. The grade of 10% will be easily climbed by all cars in good operating condition. The 500 men at the camp will be ready to join in welcoming the visitors. The road will be opened every Sunday in the future so that people may drive to the bottom of the canyon.

Pat Neff, former Governor of Texas, is now president of Baylor College at Waco. He issued an edict that hazing must stop. Some students, who didn't know him so very well, thought Prexy Neff was joking. They could not imagine any college actually running students away, regardless of what happened. But Pat Neff meant business, and also meant that the trustees could either stand by him, or take back his job. The students were expelled, Neff handed in his resignation, which was promptly rejected, and the president praised by the trustees. Baylor will win praise from the people, and Pat Neff will be a stronger character with the people of Texas as a result of the incident. And perhaps the expelled students will have a little sense pounded into their thick skulls.

Bankers are getting ready to come under the new guaranty system to be established on the first of January. All national banks must come under the national guaranty provision, while in Texas the state banks have the choice between the national system or the new state system. Most of the state banks which were members of the federal reserve system will come under the national guaranty provision. The depositor will have all of his deposit fully protected under the new plan. Various states have attempted the guaranty plan, and have failed, because sound bankers were not protected against reckless ones. Under the new set-up, all banks will have much closer supervision. It is hoped that in the future bank failures will be unknown in the United States.

If you have not joined the Red Cross, in response to the Annual Roll Call, you still have time before Thanksgiving. There never was a time when Randall county people had a greater need to respond to the Roll Call. Without a large community chest from which to draw in cases of emergency, the Red Cross will be called upon for much aid during the coming winter. See W. A. Warren, or one of his committee, and join today.

Recognition of Russia became a reality Saturday with the announcement of President Roosevelt. Probably the first thing Russia will ask of Uncle Sam is a loan. If our generous Uncle will take a little more time in looking over European collateral, it will please his subjects very much. 22 billions of dollars have been loaned Europe since the war, with prospects of getting very little of it back.

The American Legion plans a program of fun and entertainment for Christmas. Cal Farley and Dutch Mantell of Amarillo will bring 25 entertainers here on Dec. 4th for a program. The Amarillo people are coming free of charge with a good clean program, and all of the proceeds will go to the Christmas campaign of the Palo Duro Post.

Museum Gets Series Of Civil War Letters

Give Viewpoint of Federals Living In South

(By Mrs. T. V. Reeves)

A series of letters, relating the plight and hardships of people of Federal sympathies who lived in Confederate areas during the civil war, is in the possession of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. These were given the society by Mrs. J. E. Swafford of 1920 B Washington Street, Amarillo. They were written by I. T. Swafford and his wife Elizabeth, of Benton, Arkansas, and cover the period of January 4, 1863 to March 17, 1864.

Writing his wife on December 28, 1863, the husband said, "The Confederacy is nearly gone east of the Mississippi. Bragg's army is a complete wreck," and again, "The Federals can fight until the gable end of eternity is nocked out." There was no lack of confidence in the final victory of the Federal troops, for Mr. Swafford reports that "Wealth and population are both actually increasing in the north."

Anxiety for his crop at home was part of the soldier's worry; he instructed his wife, "If anyone should come and profess to have bought my cotton, don't give it up unless they bring an order from me, in my own handwriting."

Neighbors Sympathetic

Surrounded by neighbors whose active sympathies were with the Confederate cause, and whose sons and fathers were fighting against her husband, the lot of Mrs. Swafford was not easy. There was the nightly fear that her home, perhaps with the children in it, might be burned. The home place was robbed, and even the most precious family treasures which were buried in the garden were found and carried away. The work horses were stolen. A neighbor of like sympathies with the Swafford family was killed.

Then little Mary, a daughter became sick with brain fever and died. The mother despairingly wrote, "I shall bury Marry this afternoon. This is a great trial, but it is God's will."

Had Plenty of Food

The letters of Mr. Swafford tell that the men in the army had plenty of food, but that they frequently suffered from dysentery and malaria. His communications were optimistic while Mrs. Swafford's were characterized by great patience. There were in the many pages no terms of endearment. One of the letters closed with these words, "Committeeing myself and all of you to the kind protection of God, I bid you good evening."

The exact point at which the husband was stationed is never revealed in the letters, but the towns of New Bethel, and Benton, and Saline County are mentioned, giving the reader the impression that the family lived not far from Little Rock.

Jubilee Singers Here On Dec. 4

Have Sung Over Radio And In Europe Recently

Something unusual is being offered students of W. T. with the engagement of the Utica Jubilee Singers, widely known singers of negro spirituals, for the second lyceum program on December 4. The singers have appeared over radio here and abroad, and have met with decided success on their two concert tours of Europe.

"Those who nave heard them call their programs unique in the world of musical art," says Prof. Wallace R. Clark, who is in charge. "They are noted for their native freshness, the deep feeling of the rendition of their songs. They preserve the striking rhythm, which more than anything else sets negro music apart."

On Radio

For three years they have been heard over the blue network in the United States, besides appearing on independent programs over the NBC stations. They have participated in two international broadcasts.

On their two concert tours of Europe they were enthusiastically received throughout Germany, in Vienna, Budapest, Paris and London. In Belgrade they were invited to appear before the royal family at the American Legation and received personal commendation of the King's brother.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Buffs To Lose 7 By Graduation

All Have Been "Good Men And True" On Team

Saturday's game with Alva Teachers will end the college football careers for seven Buffalo gridsters whom it will be hard to replace as they have formed the bulwark of the present team.

Heading the list to be taken by graduation is "Cow" Williams, 200 pound fullback who has lettered four years on the varsity. "Cow" is rated as one of the best fullbacks in the entire Southwest.

George Manning, giant 225 pound tackle will be missed greatly from the line. This is also George's fourth and last year on the varsity.

Kenneth Kendrick's position will be hard to fill. Kenneth is right end on the Buffalo squad. This is his second year on the varsity. He transferred to Canyon last year from Wayland Baptist College at Plainview.

Al "Iron Head" Duncan, 170 pound halfback and three year letter man, would be missed by anybody's team. Al is one of the most aggressive line plungers in the history of W. T. football.

Jack Spence, 185 pound halfback, is a man who will be hard to replace. Jack is the best blocker on the entire Buffalo squad. He is a 3 year letter man.

L. A. Stowe, left end, who has been responsible for many of the long aerial gains of the Buffaloes, will be hard to replace. Stowe weighs 170 pounds and is a two letter man.

Last but no means least, is Russell Stroud, 180 pound substitute end. Stroud is the tallest man on the team and is substitute for either end position. Stroud is a two year letter man.

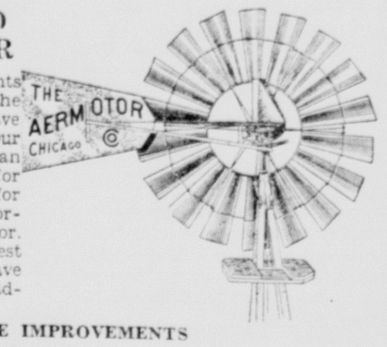
THE NEWEST WINDMILL

AN IMPROVED AERMOTOR



Important improvements in the construction of the Auto-Oiled Aermotor have just been completed. Our engineers have made an exhaustive search for every possible means for improving the performance of the Aremotor. The result is the best windmill that we have ever made without and advance in prices.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

The Wheel Shaft has been increased in size to give ample strength to meet any emergency.

Removeable Bearings are used for the wheel shaft and the large gears. These bearings can easily be replaced on the tower if it should ever become necessary.

The Wheel Arms screw into the hub so that they can never work loose. The wheel is assembled with only six bolts.

The Double Gears Run Quietly because they are made with great accuracy. The small gears, except for the largest sizes, are cut from steel bars and are very true and uniform. The large gears are machine molded with great exactness.

Speed Regulation. The tension of the vane spring is now such that the whel will regulate winds when slow speed is desired. Adjustment for higher speed is easily made.

The New Brake is made adjustable.

We can sell our customers the Improved Aermotor with full confidence that we are giving the best windmill that skill can produce and at prices which are made possible only by the most modern factory equipment.

Write for description circulars showing the new features.

Winter Styles Favor Mature Figure

NECKLINES, ESPECIALLY V TYPE, BODICE CUT, AND SURPLICE CLOSINGS, GIVE THAT SLENDERIZING EFFECT

BY HARRIET

WINTER fashions for the mature figure emphasize necklines and intricate cutting of fabrics.

Necklines are slenderizing and flattering and some of them give you a chance for variety in your wardrobe. There are square, V, oval, and round ones. But V necklines usually are better for the older woman.

Surplice closings are right in the fore. They do the same slenderizing trick and they're smart as can be.

Necks often are trimmed with white or some pastel color. Touches of gold or silvery lame are used in profusion this year and no wardrobe is complete until it has been brightened up with a bit of glitter.

You can have gold around your neck, placed high on the bosom in the guise of gold-petaled flowers, or on the cuffs of a frock. And don't forget about those attractive and glamorous gold jackets to wear over dinner dresses.

THE fabrics do all sorts of interesting things to one's figure this winter. Cutting the bodice of a dress with the material running straight up and down and then making the skirt with the material going around is one way of creating an illusion of slenderness.

Seams that run from the waistline to the hem of a skirt—that is, if they are well-placed seams—give a long, unbroken line which makes you look taller and thinner.

Enormous sleeves are not for the matronly figure. It is better to have smooth, straight ones, with perhaps a little bit of fullness just above the elbow.

A DRESS of black crepe with straight, narrow pleats running down each side of the front of the skirt has an unusual neckline, which can be worn two ways. It can be worn open with the lapels turned back, exposing the satin vestee which forms a long rolled collar. Or it can be worn with the lapels buttoned high across the neck in front, showing only a little bit of the satin.

The long sleeves are straight from the elbows to the wrist, but they show some slight fullness between the elbows and the shoulder seams.

Worn with a modified Tyrolean-type felt hat with a small brim, suede gloves, purse and pumps, it's the perfect costume for nice luncheon dates, informal teas, or an afternoon of bridge.

The dress of uncut red velvet is made with the material straight up and down in the bodice and around on the skirt. It has a slenderizing surplice closing and a belt of self material tied at the normal waistline.

Flattering velvet flowers are fastened at the point of the rounded V neckline.

The sleeves are long, with white gloves pulled up over them. A black velvet hat and velvet slippers make it a grand dress-up costume.

BUFFALOES WILL END SEASON SATURDAY IN BEST PLAYING FORM

Coach Jenks Simmons will bring twenty-six of his Northwestern Rangers to Canyon to meet the Buffaloes of West Texas State Teachers College Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Buffalo Stadium for the last game of the season for both teams.

Although the record of neither team has been especially bright this season, both are very similar in the respect that both schools were establishing a new coach and a new system. The Alva team has won four games and lost three.

Both teams will be fighting to close their season with a victory for their new coaches. Word from Alva says, "The Northwesterners go to Canyon to bring home a victory to close the season. Resting in fourth place in the conference, the Rangers feel that another victory is essential and intend to get it November 25 from the West Texas Buffaloes."

Simmons has shifted Burchfield, hefty center, into the backfield for the game in Texas, and hopes to smash the Teacher line for gains with his 190 pound ball lugger.

This will be offset on the side of the Buffaloes by the unexpected return of big burly Capt. Williams to the lineup. Williams' lacerated ear healed much facter than was expected, and yesterday the doctor said that with the proper taping Williams would be able to see service in the game. This game will mark the winding up of the college football career of Capt. Williams and Cow is expected to end up an excellent career with one of his best exhibitions.

The Buffaloes looked like they were playing the football they were capable of for the first time this season in the game against Las Vegas. They were really blocking and tackling in that game, and feel that they will continue to do so against Alva, now that they have found themselves.

The Baggettmen intend to start a string of consecutive victories beginning with the Las Vegas game and continuing with the Ranger game and on up through next year.

IS THE SMALL TOWN PASSING?

Especially timely is an utterance of R. L. Thornton, president of the Mercantile National Bank at Dallas, which contains much thought of interest to our readers. On its merits it is reproduced here:

Fifteen to twenty-five years ago, in bad road days, the smaller towns all over Texas—towns less in size than the county seat towns—did a flourishing business. Then with the advent of good roads and the novelty and efficiency of the automobile, the business of many of the small towns began to dwindle and some of them have almost passed out of business existence. The blacksmith shop has given way to the filling station; the horse-drawn carriage to the auto; the church house, as a gathering place in part, to the picture show. And so, the change in human amusement and activity.

Yet, we are still people with the same or better average rate of human intelligence and about as good as we ever were—still spending most of what we make for the things we need and want. The old free credit business in the main has changed to either a thirty-day or cash business. We go on getting better or worse—some that were better are now worse and some that were worse are now better—and many of the old patrons of the "old day" store have passed on and a "new day" generation have taken their places, are doing the making of the money and the spending of it.

So, we know generally what has happened to the business of many of the smaller towns, but the big question is what brought it about and will the business return again; will the small town return to its normal or radius function or has its business gone elsewhere never to return?

Business left the smaller town largely for three reasons: first, the new method of transportation with good roads made roamers, so to speak, out of our people. They went to the larger trading centers, primarily because it was easy and they wanted to go some place—to move to some new place, not because prices as a rule were lower, but there was more excitement, more people, and everybody else was going. Second, the larger trading centers afforded a wider variety of style and quality, a greater "Circus Day" event, more hilarity, more entertainment, more fun, and both the young and the old liked it and always have. Third, the merchants of the larger trading centers advertised, told the smaller town folks all about their bargains of price, style and fitness to a greater degree than ever before, and the smaller town folks liked that. It was, in a way, something new to them, that is, advertising in a different way and a more thrilling way. Then what happened? The small town store, losing its business, ceased to carry what the people wanted—reduced its stocks and simply surrendered, so to speak, saying that this town is through for good and the auto and good roads have ruined this town and my business. Some of the better small town merchants went to the larger trade centers, and the county seat town raised the same complaint in part, saying their customers with autos and good roads had gone on to the cities where still more glamour and greater entertainment, greater stores and more fun existed, all of which, in part, has happened.

I know county seat towns that sold more goods in dollars twenty to thirty years ago than they do today. All these changes have affected banking in these respective towns and communities, for as the business of a town ebbs and flows, so flows the business of the banks of that town.

Paved streets, big lighted streets, big fire departments, all of which we like, must be paid for by merchants and other tax payers and have a direct bearing on the expense of doing business, and are reflected in the prices of goods sold.

So, many of the larger cities are now over-merchandised with an ever-increasing overhead cost of doing business; and, too, haven't the purchasers about finished their "joy riding" and now ready to come back home? If merchants will invite them back with "up-to-now" modern stocks and modern methods of doing business, fun and entertainment, won't the same auto that carried them away bring them back? And can't they come back over the same good roads they went away over? The purchasers have begun to learn that it takes money to run an auto 20 to 100 miles, let alone wear and tear. He has begun to learn that high city taxes and high costs of doing business are also placed on the price ticket of the article he buys. He has also begun to learn that there is not now nearly so much advantage with the quantity buyer as there used to be. The buyer is now an educated buyer. The radio, the newspapers, and the merchants themselves have taught him a lot more about merchandise than he ever knew before. So, hasn't all of this created a new opportunity for the smaller town merchant of equal merchandising ability and with equal or proportionately equal capital?

My own view is that we are running over many green fields looking for greener ones. The capable smaller or county-seat town merchant has many basic advantages in cost of doing business. He is closer to and understands the wants and necessities of his trade territory. The question of small and quick deliveries is now solved. He sits close to the seat of our fundamental purchasing power. If he is a merchandiser he can sell the best quality at as low a price as that article can be profitably sold anywhere. To illustrate that the small town has not gone, though many would-be merchants have passed on and out:

According to statistics compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce, 30.2 per cent of the merchandise bought at retail by the people of the United States was bought in towns and hamlets of 10,000 and less. Doesn't this surprise you when you take into consideration the thousands of large trading centers of 10,000 and over in the United States? After all, it's the masses that are doing the great majority of our buying.

Enterprising merchants and business men built most all the towns and cities of this country. This same type, that is the New Day, up-to-date, wide-awake merchants and business men, can rebuild them and will, for there is opportunity there and men seek opportunity and dare the world for it.

But don't forget that we are all scientific now. Just anybody is not a merchant any more than just anyone is a doctor or a preacher or a lawyer, whereas in former days, anyone that had enough money to buy a few goods and offer them for sale to the public was a merchant. That was usually for only a short time.

So, my thought is the country town has not passed, but as the country rights its economic wrongs, sees the light for a sounder economic day, the smaller town will perform its sound economic function by serving those that it is best equipped to serve in every line, just as the cities serve, and not until then will we reach our maximum of a well-balanced prosperity, for it takes prosperous hamlets, prosperous towns and prosperous cities to make up a well-balanced prosperous country.

MAROON AND WHITE DEFEAT LAS VEGAS 7 TO 6 SATURDAY

Buffalo Line Holds Like A Wall During Play

At Las Vegas on Saturday, November 18, the West Texas Buffaloes succeeded in winning another ball game. New Mexico Normal was the victim of a 7 to 6 defeat.

Morgan, Buffalo quarterback, carried the ball over from the fifteen yard stripe in the third quarter, after Duncan had brought the ball in a sustained drive of off tackle plunges from the Buffalo's own thirty yard line. Teague converted the extra point which proved to be the winning margin.

The victory was more complete though than the score showed, as the Buffs led in the matter of first downs 12 to 5, and more than doubled the Cowboys in regards to yards gained from scrimmage. The Buffaloes made three drives from one end of the field to the other, with Duncan carrying the burden of the attack, only to have them nipped in the bud by three 15 yard penalties. Holston, playing fullback nearly got away for a score in the second quarter on a nicely executed lateral pass from McInnis, but was brought down after a twenty yard gain.

Outplay Cowboys

Looking like an entirely different team from the one that was decisively defeated by the New Mexico Military Institute the week before, the Texans outplayed the Cowboys in every department of the game with the exception of punting.

Dunbar, Las Vegas fullback, got off several nice kicks after a bad start, ranging from 40 to 60 yards, and caught the Buffalo safety man napping some times.

The Buffalo line was functioning like a machine, tearing big holes in the opposing line for the backs to come through. The blocking of Walker, Teague, and especially Lovelace was outstanding. On defense again the whole team was working but Cheesy Manning, giant tackle, was the Rock of Gibralter, followed closely by Gene Lovelace.

Score Last Quarter

Las Vegas scored their touchdown in the last quarter, following some excellent kicking by Dunbar. The Cowboys made one long run around left end, and aided by two penalties, reached the Buffalo 11 yard line. In four line plunges the Cowboys made a first down on the Buffs one yard line. For three downs the Buff line was a stone wall, but on the last down, although there was room for and was a lot of argument, the referee decided that the head of the man had been in the air over the goal line.

The Cowboys didn't have a chance to kick the extra point. Five men broke through like water through a sieve, and it fell to the lot of Lovelace to block the kick that won the game.

Later, Dunbar attempted two field goals, but both fell short. Trumbull, Cowboy left tackle was the outstanding defensive player on the other side of the fence.

The game ended with the Buffs in possession of the ball on their own thirty yard line.

"Help Is on the Way," AAA Chief Peek Advises Midwestern Farmers

"AT last it is possible to tell the corn and wheat farmer that help is on the way!" Despairing midwestern farmers may derive some measure of hope from these words of George N. Peek, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act; and from his outline of the federal aid that is "on the way."

According to the AAA administrator, a program has been set in motion in which hundreds of millions of dollars will be poured into the corn and wheat belts in the near future. The first $70,000,000 of benefit payments totaling more than $100,000,000 will be made this fall and next spring, Peek promises.

This vast sum is to go to those wheat farmers of Kansas, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Montana, and Washington who have contracted to reduce their 1934 acreage by not less than 20 per cent.

Peek estimates that 80 per cent of all wheat acreage in the United States is represented in the application for contracts which have been signed.

THE campaign to have corn-and-hog farmers sign up to reduce production will begin soon.

"We expect it to be completed by the first of the year," says Peek, "and to start the benefit payments flowing out early in the coming year to those who participate."

And these co-operating farmers, he continues, may call on the newly created Commodity Credit Corporation for substantial loans on their stored corn.

Each farmer who cuts his corn acreage by one-fifth will get 30 cents a bushel for the corn he does not grow. And, by agreeing to sell one-fourth less hogs than he normally did, the farmer will get $5 a hundredweight for hogs unsold.

If the sign-up campaign is successful, corn-and-hog farmers will receive $350,000,000 in benefit payments by Feb. 1, the administrator believes. This money will come from a 28 cents a bushel processing tax on corn.

MR. PEEK bases his faith in the eventual success of the corn and wheat program on the results the AAA already has achieved in the south. Following benefit payments totaling $110,000,000 to cotton growers, and the arranging of marketing agreements with tobacco manufacturers, Peek claims, "reports from the south are that conditions have shown a great improvement."

"The farmers of the middle west and the northwest are sorely in need of help," Peek concludes; "and we are working to give them that help just as rapidly as organized effort can get it to them.

"We are confident that most of them will refrain from hampering us with ill-advised methods of violence, and will do all they can to speed our action."

MR. PEEK himself is a son of the soil. In fact, it was the foreclosure eviction of his family from their farm at Polo, Ill., where he was born 59 years ago, that gave the future AAA administrator his deep sympathy for farmers and their tribulations.

And it was the insight into farmers' problems, gained from his more than a score of years' experience in the agricultural machinery business which made his life hobby that of farm relief.

Well howdy, everybody:

How have you kids been farin' the last week and over the week end?

I wonder how J. C. Bellah is gettin' along. I ain't seen hair nor hide uv him fer more than three weeks. I'll betcha he's got into less meanness in that time than anybody cuz he's been layin' in bed with a broken leg. Jest be like cheerful cherub said to be:

"I've had some awful illnesses
And sickness that stretched me flat
But anyway I'm still alive
And lots uv people can't say that."

There's a gal I been a missin' up here at school the last few days. Inez is quite, but she's shore sum gal. You know the one's who have the least to say knows the most. And that's jest the way it wuz with Miss Drummond. She's worth her weight in gold. I heard about her bein' at Amarillo now. We're missin' you, Inez, you'd better hurry back to Canyon.

Uv all the people to b ecomin' back to Canyon—old Clara Sanders—not Sanders—but Mrs. Eldon Spain. She blowed in about Friday. And tell me—how is married life? Why don't you mozey up to the school house and pay us a visit? Why I bet the teachers and kids too, ud all like to see you, anyway I would. We'll be expectin' you.

Congratulations Curtis, the whole high school is a bettin' on you. We want you to lead the Eagles of '34 and '35 to district honors.

There6s a little kid in grade school that's shore gonna make a hefty football player. I could tell that by the way he hustled in there when we wuz pickin' cotton. This person is none other than Dudo Brasuel. When you git to be about a senior, I'd like to see you make all-district team at some position, so don't disappoint us.

There's jest one question I'd like to ask. Forest, how do you manage with so many cars. I can't afford nothin' better than a model T Ford. I ain't inquisitive. What I need is some advice.

Well, keep clean until next Thursday.

C. H. S. Library Dept. Receives Free Pamphlets

Free pamphlet material has recently been sent to the Canyon high school library upon request of one of the ninth grade English classes. The Texas Tuberculosis Association has sent a group of pamphlets dealing with the prevention of tuberculosis. Some of the titles of the pamphlets in this group are "The Strange Case of Mr. Smith," an amusing story of cold murder, and "Hitch-Hikers." Another interesting section is that of the National Recreation Association, which is offering "Athletic Badge Tests for Boys and Girls.' The German Tourist office has sent out some large pictures of scenery in Germany, which have been distributed in Miss Jordan's and Miss Foster's rooms. The literature received deals with Panama, the Texas Tuberculosis Association, the German Tourist Office, Weather Bureau, Bureau of Mines, the Child Welfare League, and the National Recreation Association.

Framed Picture in Hall Symbolic of Football Team

Just above the trophy case in the main hall of the high school is a beautiful framed picture of two eagles fighting. It was framed and given to the football boys by Mr. I. B. Carruth, superintendent of the public schools. Showing the eagles in a fighting mood and in their natural environment, poised in the air above a beautifully colored canyon in the mountains, the picture, entitled "Dizzy Heights and Daring Hearts," is symbolic of our own Eagles.

In front of the picture is a large mounted eagle on a huge rock. G. W. Cox lent this eagle to the school.

Brunettes Are Discussed In Home Ec. Club

The Home Economics Club met Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 3:00 o'clock in the Home Economics department.

A very interesting program was given about brunettes.

Mary Ella Lowe gave a short talk on "Kinds of Brunettes."

Dora Mae Plaster discussed "What Brunettes Should Wear."

Claudia Fae Teal gave a reading entitled "The Aviator."

A round table discussion was then held on different brunettes present.

Now we understand what is meant by a cursory glance. It's the kind your wife hurls at you when you trump her ace.

Some people waste a lot of energy climbing mountains before they are even in sight.

Our idea of a modest man is one who can keep his opinion of himself to himself.

P. T. A. To Meet This Afternoon At 3:00 O'clock

P. T. A. will meet Thursday, November 23, at 3:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium. It is hoped that there will be as large a crowd Thursday as there was at the last meeting.

The women will form a choral club and several study clubs will be formed as branches of the P. T. A. Dr. M. L. Saddoris will speak on the Medical Association.

P. T. A. To Put On Negro Minstrel

The Parent-Teachers Association of Canyon High School is sponsoring a negro minstrel to be given at an early date. This minstrel promises to be a great success, and even funnier than the ones given here before. Directors for the minstrel are Mrs. Lee Foster, Mrs. J. D. Barker and Mr. I. B. Carruth. The ones taking part in the minstrel are Mr. Bill Smith, Mr. Lee Foster, Mr. J. H. Cox, Jr., Mr. W. H. Stroud, Mr. J. B. Fowler, Mr. I. B. Carruth and Mr. A. K. McBride. The girls glee club which is made up of Yvonne Thomas, Gladys McBride, Ruby Guthrie, Loretta Cole, Gertrude Brandt, Myrtle Chitwood, Gearald Deane Heath, Mavis Hardin, Mary Ella Davis, Lavent Watkins, Robbye Foster, Lelabel Johnson, Bettye Ruth Solomon, Wilma Cofer, Dell Bagley, Mary Ellen Hurst, Lorine Bessire, Margaret Nicholas, Irene Mullins, Lecy Mae Furlow, Mildred Clounch, and Ruth McCrerey are assisting.

Curtis Ellison Is Elected Football Captain of 1934

Curtis Ellison, veteran Eagle end, was unanimously elected captain of the 1934 gridsters Thursday in succession to Francis Elliston, by the lettermen of 1933.

Curtis' record on the squad well qualifies him for the position, he having lettered two years, and distinguished himself as a clean, hard hitting, and dependable player. Curtis entered Canyon High School in 1930 in the seventh grade. Although he did not come out for football his first year in high school, he lettered in his sophomore year.

Pins For Debate Club Arrive

The little debate club pins have quite recently arrived and can now be seen on the lapel of every debater being proudly displayed.

The plain celluloid badges, simply colored in blue and gold, may appear insignificant to any unconcerned passerby, but they mean to the wearer, the actual hope of victory in this fascinating activity, debate.

NOTE

For the last three weeks J. C. Bellah has been lying in bed with a broken leg. J. C. broke his leg while participating in a game of football on his own field at home.

J. C. is a freshman and has been missed very much since his injury. The school hopes for his speedy recovery.

Damrosch Hour Is Enjoyed By Grade Students

Friday afternoon, November 17, the students of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades of Canyon grade school were entertained by the fourth Damrosch Concert Radio Hour conducted by Walter Damrosch. The program featured numbers by the oboe, English horn, and bassoon. Six numbers were played in all. The students seemed to enjoy "Largo" by Dvorak from "New World Symphony."

The object of these programs is to build up an appreciation of good music.

December 8, the high school students will be favored by listening to the Fifth Damrosch Radio Hour concert, which will present brass instruments.

Faculty Facts

Perhaps one of the most outstanding members of the faculty in Canyon High School is Mr. George S. Terry, who is serving his second year as principal of this school. He also teaches algebra, Texas history and junior English. He is especially outstanding for his debate coaching.

Mr. Terry was born in Hale Center, Texas in 1905. At that town, he completed his education thru high school. He attended W. T. S. T .C. for two years, received his degree from S. M. U. and has attended Texas University for four summers.

While at Southern Methodist University, he was admitted into Tau Kappa Alpha, a national honor oratorical society. Another outstanding honor, was the winning of a $100 check for his theme, "History of John B. Hood." He was a member of the debate squad the last year of his work in S. M. U.

Mr. Terry has had much experience in teaching, beginning at the age of 18. His first two years were spent in Booker, one year in Hale Center, four years at Olton, and the past year here.

Other than his summers spent in going to school, one summer he worked on a dray line and another he spent in working at a carbon black plant.

In 1932, he met Marguerite Dickinson, teacher of English in the high school. They were married just before the opening of the summer session of Texas University, where they went immediately after their wedding.

Probably his most embarrassing moment, Mr. Terry says, was at an Epworth League rally at Tulia. He had taken a young lady teacher, and a number of leaguers from Olton. At the banquet, a Scottish reading was given. The words "And I 'leefe' you very much," were used quite frequently in the reading. As Mr. Terry enjoyed the reading immensely, he turned to the young lady, and, quoting the lines from the poem, said, "I lufe you very much." Many seated around him heard what he had said, and the news spread quickly that Mr. Terry was vowing his love for the young lady teacher. You can scarcely blame him for being embarrassed.

His main hobby is debating, which he has done since a senior in college. He also likes to play a French harp.

Cactus Patrol Served With Turkey Dinner

A turkey dinner for the Cactus Patrol of the Sandstorm Troop was given at the home of Mildred Shuman, 1404 Second Avenue, Saturday night, Nov. 18.

Place cards, which were black silhouettes with the name in white ink, stood in front of each place, and napkins with turkeys on them were used.

Card games were played and fortunes were told after the dinner.

Expression On Students' Faces Is Interesting

Watching people's faces when they are writing, is an excellent way to pass away leisure time.

The English theme usually causes a perplexed expression, and a letter, a happy expression. A history paper usually causes one to register an expression which seems to have a blur of dates written at strange angles across his face. But only a newspaper article can give one that unique look. When the poor one can't get a good lead, an expression adorns his face similar to expressions on crazy people's faces; then he gets started well, and joy beams on his bright countenance. He can't find a word to use, and it is plain by the vague, blank expression on his face. The article is finished and joy is registered again.

This is a very interesting way to spend time, but don't try it in the study hall.

So That You May Know

More than ever before, the schedule of the Canyon High School is built this year around the needs of the children. If this sounds like a mere educational platitude, read on.

In the first place we are conducting each day from 3 to 4, an "opportunity class," where children who need special help can get it. This need for special help arises from absences, or from the fact that some boy or girl has failed to get the proper background for a subject. At this period every teacher can be found meeting groups of their pupils, varying from 5 to 25 in number. There are only two or three classes of pupils who can fail under this plan, so if your child is failing, check this list to see why. First is the group which is absent a day or more out of each week; second there is the type of student who refuses to use his own effort to get anywhere; and third, there is the occasional student who is hopelessly classified in a grade above his ability.

So if you have a child in the Canyon high school who is not making satisfactory grades, we invite your questions as to which of these groups he falls into, and we assure you that you will receive our fullest co-operation in correcting the difficulty.

Actual Work On Debate Question Begun by Teams

The Debate Club, meeting Tuesday, October 14, in the High School building, began work on the affirmative side of the question.

The object of the evening's work was to prepare the first speeches. Great progress was made on this project, and it was decided before the meeting adjourned to have the first practice debate the following Thursday evening at seven-thirty.

The club, therefore, met again October 16, with all debaters on both sides present.

Mary Ella Lowe and Laura Ferne Brian upheld the affirmative side of the question against those of the negative, Armor Lee Greenfield and Rosa Cash. The question was of course, the official one, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a system of radio control and regulation similar to that of Great Britain." The decision was given to the negative side by the judge, Ogden Stroud.

Plans have already been made as to the actual program of this year's work, and the debaters, five teams of girls and four teams of boys, are planning to bring the laurels to Canyon High School at the close of the season.

Future Eagle Team Drops to Buchanan By Score of 12-0

Canyon High School's Eagles of next year met the Buchanan Junior High School Buffaloes in a post-season game here last Thursday met defeat to the tune of 12-0.

The Eagle squad was composed of men who will be eligible next year. Only two days had been spent in practice, and several players had changed positions, which prevented the Eagles squad from clicking.

Neither team was able to tally until well in the fourth period when the Buffaloes scored two touchdowns in quick succession on an off-tackle play.

RED CROSS ORGANIZATION

"The Red Cross is the highest expression of the humanitarian sentiment of the Nation," says Charles Evans Hughes, who is Chief Justice of the United States.

How many of us are members of the Red Cross? Probably those who are not members never stop to consider how much good the Red Cross really does. The Red Cross has gone into the homes of nearly one-fifth of all the families in the United States the past year, bearing practical relief for those suffering from financial, business and industrial debacle, and from disasters created by the elements. It has carried on, thru stress and storm, the greatest relief program of its fifty-two years of service.

The Red Cross distributes flour and clothing to millions throughout the Nation.

Your Red Cross membership helped to perform this real, direct and practical relief work.

It is your membership that supports the service of our local and national Red Cross. It was thru the services of the Red Cross that we were enabled to have a nurse last year to examine the school children of Canyon.

Citizens, be of service. Join this organization through the local Red Cross chapter during the present Roll Call.

Road Opening

Floyd Studer of Amarillo will make a short talk on the geology of the Palo Duro. Mr. Jones will close the program.

In the bottom of the canyon a barbecue will be served starting at 12:30 and continuing throughout the afternoon. Citizens of the Plains who wish to take their lunches to the canyon for a picnic will find plenty of barbecue, buns and coffee on sale at 25 cents. The barbecue will be sold at only a sufficient price to cover costs.

The new road into the Palo Duro is sufficiently wide at all places for two cars to pass. The grade is only 10%, which is not too steep for any car in good condition. While not yet hard surfaced, the road is in excellent shape, and has been in use for several weeks for the trucks of the superintendent's department.

Mr. Miller states that all of the 500 men in the camp will assist in handling the crowd for next Sunday, and will be glad to welcome visitors. It is expected that fully 10,000 people will drive to the Park during Sunday afternoon for the opening. There is a field of about 70 acres at the lower end of the road, giving ample space for large picnic parties.

Visitors to the canyon Sunday should drive out in ample time before dark, since there are no lights available for the roadway.

Mr. Miller hopes to have D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Parks Board, and other members of the Board present Sunday to view the work of the past five months. Mr. Colp was very active in the work of starting the Park, and has been here twice since the work started. His board is now in full control of Park construction and activities. He has sent Mr. Miller new plans for the various projects which will be constructed at the Park, indicating that the Parks Board has extensive plans in view for developing this park.

Information comes that Mr. Colp has recommended the establishment of two civilian work camps in the park during the winter, but so far no information has been received as to the type of work which will be undertaken.

New Company

have been busy most of this week work out unfinished parts of the buildings for the three companies, and making uniform arrangements for the camps.

Major Watson's office and quarters were erected to the east of Company 1829, overlooking the canyon. When he came here in July, the Major pitched his tent as near the edge of the canyon as possible, and chose to have his new quarters located at a point of vantage overlooking the canyon.

Engineering barracks will be the last building edected, located near the present engineering office. At the present time the engineers and foremen are housed in the C. C. C. barracks, awaiting the errection of their new barrack.

Orders were received yesterday to dismantle the government property at the Palisades, and the company will be moved out within the coming week.

ficials Tuesday. Oscar Smith and H. S. Strain were called to Austin to meet with Lawrence Westbrook who is handling the relief and public works funds. It was hoped that an understanding could be reached between the relief headquarters and the highway department so that men could be put to work according to the President's orders, and according to plans which have been approved.

The county judges in meeting Thursday directed that someone account for the special $8,900,000 relief fund which had been ordered by President Roosevelt for the benefit of Panhandle counties, but which has not been given to the counties. So far the Panhandle has not received any special allotment in compliance with the President's appropriation.

Bedroom Contest In Home Demonstration Clubs Is Concluded

Making rugs, refinishing old pieces of furniture, making new pieces of furniture, building clothes closets, papering walls, refinishing floors, adding shades and curtains are a few of the things that have been done with little cost by the bedroom demonstrators of the Randall County Home Demonstration Clubs.

Fifteen cents for nails, scrap lumber from an old shed and two days of labor put a nice closet in the bedroom of Mrs. Marie Dorman, bedroom demonstrator of the Zita Home Demonstration Club.

An old quilt and the best parts of old sheets made a good mattress pad for the bedroom of Mrs. O. M. Olson, bedroom demonstrator of the Lake Side Demonstration Club.

Eight large feed sacks made a good mattress cover used in the bedroom of Mrs. J. E. Hunter, bedroom demonstrator of the West Side Home Demonstration Club. By doing her own work Mrs. Hunter papered and refinished the floors and woodwork of her bedroom and bathroom for $1.40.

A chair that serves several purposes may be found in the bedroom of Mrs. George Hardman, bedroom demonstrator of the Edgetown Home Demonstration Club. Scrap lumber was used for making the chair and cretonne for covering it. The seat of the chair is on hinges and when it is lifted a nice storage place for quilts is found. The foot stool to match also serves several purposes, for when it is opened socks and stockings are found.

Mrs. L. F. Sheffy scored the bedrooms in each club last spring. In the meantime the women have had several demonstrations on bedrooms which included wall finishes, floor finishes, and making of hooked rugs. In order to see who had made the most improvement in the rooms, Mrs. Sheffy scored the rooms again last week. After seeing the rooms again and reading the stories of each demonstrator she placed them as follows: First, Mrs. Marie Dorman, Zita Club; second, Mrs. O. M. Olson, Lake Side Club;; third, Mrs. J. E. Hunter, West Side Club; fourth, Mrs. George Hardman, Edgetown Club.

29 vegetables and 8 fruits were used from the garden of Lula Spiser, garden demonstrator of the Johnson 4-H club. Many of these were used fresh, others canned, and some were sold to pay for her plants, seed, hoe, and rake.

Besides being a garden demonstrator for the 4-H club Lula was a co-operator in clothing and bedroom. She won several places on her clothing in the county exhibit at Canyon and was the first and only girl in Randall County to have an exhibit at the State Fair at Dallas. Of her three entries at the Dallas Fair she won second place on her cook apron.

No Information Has Been Received Regarding Two Deer

In spite of the close investigations made by Game Wardens Buck Harris and Hugh Small, no clues have been uncovered as to who killed the two deer at the Palo Duro State Park week ago Monday.

All of the citizens on the east side of the Palo Duro were questioned, but no information was found which might lead to the identy of the guilty parties. A reward of $200 has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty ones.
